

Off to Angola!

Dear Friends,

I hope this letter finds you in good health and doing well! I am writing to let you know that I will be traveling to Angola this fall from September to the end of November. I will be serving and shadowing doctors at C.E.M.L. mission hospital (The Centro Evangelico de medicina do Lubango) as well as helping wherever I am needed at a local cattle ranch also run by SIM missionaries called Tchicombe Ranch. I have always heard about missions to this area of Africa and its surrounding countries after hearing stories from my grandparents who served there in the 1960s and 70s my whole life who continued it from their parents. Africa has always been a fascinating country to me which in many areas is sadly still untouched by the Gospel.

The C.E.M.L. hospital is a private hospital located at the edge of Lubango, Angola. The hospital's location offers access to both rural and urban patients and offers special surgical procedures that would be difficult to access. The hospital has 55 beds and serves approximately 1200 patients every month.

Tchicombe Ranch is a privately-owned facility which offers skills to local Angolans whose country has been ravaged by civil war for years. These skills include carpentry, mechanical, agricultural and husbandry skills and training for the local Angolan people while providing gospel outreach at the same time.

I strongly believe that I am being led to serve and gain experience in Angola and the activities I will be involved appear undeniably very clearly aligned to my interests and abilities. As I prepare mentally and spiritually for this trip I humbly ask that you please partner with me in this ministry through prayer and however you may be able to offer financial support. My total cost estimate for this trip is approximately $13,000. If you would like to support me financially, you can give a gift conveniently online at the link provided below. If you would like to send a cheque, you can also send that to SIM through the address listed below. If you would like to learn more about this opportunity, I would be happy to give you a phone call or meet up with you to talk face to face.

Thank you and God bless!
